Portable Near-Infrared Ground Meat Analyzer

Superior Technology = Increased PROFITS

Recent studies have shown that supermarkets using antiquated methods of fat testing may be losing THOUSANDS of Dollars each year.

The AccuLean uses Near Infra-Red technology to provide fast and accurate analysis of fat content.

Analysis that will protect you from improperly labeled products. Analysis that will allow you to be more precise than ever before in your fat measurement.

This means increased PROFITS.

Analyze Ground Meat Quickly & Accurately

The AccuLean lets you test your ground meat in less than 45 seconds.

The AccuLean eliminates the need to destroy any of of your meat. Just a couple of ounces of ground meat is all you need to obtain an accurate, quantitative analysis of:

- Fat
- Protein
- Moisture

Simple to Use/Easy to Operate

The AccuLean's patented clamshell sample holder allows quick and easy analysis and cleanup.

The AccuLean does not use any chemicals or heat, nor does it produce any hazardous waste.

The AccuLean requires no specialized training.

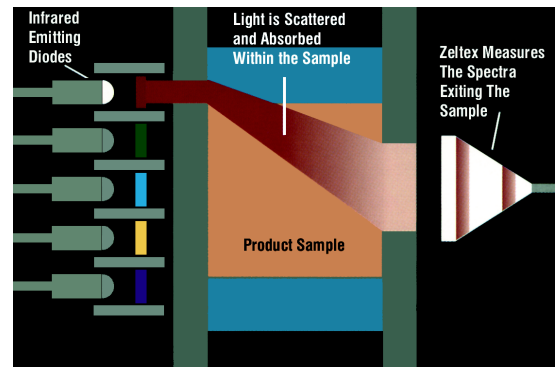

The AccuLean provides fast, lab accurate measurements with no damage to the product sample.

How It Works:

Applied Science In Measurement

Diffuse Transmittance

Light energy that enters the sample is scattered and absorbed within the sample. The AccuLean measures the spectra exiting the sample, and directly displays the product's constituent concentrations.

Easy to Use and Easy to Clean Sample Holder

Fill the Sample Bag

Place Bag in Sample Holder

You're Ready to Analyze!
